

CYCLE PARKING

London Borough of Ealing

The Perceval House site has secure cycle parking for staff and visitors which sets a good example to other employers in the borough.

Lack of convenient, secure storage for bikes at people's homes is often cited as a reason for people not cycling. To overcome this barrier, the borough also provides some subsidised cycle parking facilities (such as bike bunkers) for private households. On some council estates, they provide cycle lockers free of charge to residents.

Peer assessment of this initiative (June 2007)

- ↗ Secure Cycle Parking at LB Ealing Offices (on the ground floor of building and on the other side of the road)
- ↗ Cycle lockers on estates (free of charge to residents)
- ↗ Subsidised parking for residents in private property
